Lost in translations

What happens when an English phrase is translated (by computer) back and forth between 5 different languages? see www.tashian.com/multibabel/

Test your mind

Read the sentence below:

FINISHED FILES ARE THE RE-SULT OF YEARS OF SCIENTIF-IC STUDY COMBINED WITH THE EXPERIENCE OF YEARS

Now, go back and count the number of "F"s in the sentence. Count them ONLY ONCE; do not go back while you are counting... not even one letter back, and do not count them again. Mark the box below to see the answer.

- Never go to the toilet in a paperless office.
- You don't drown by falling in the water; you drown by staying there. (Edwin Louis Cole)
- Non-Reciprocal Laws of Expectations: Negative expectations yield negative results. Positive expectations yield negative results.
- Preudhomme's Law of Window Cleaning: It's on the other side.
- Experience is something you don't get until just after you need it.
- You will pay for your sins. If you have already paid, please disregard this message.
- Experience, n.: That marvelous thing which enables you to recognize a mistake when you make it again. -- F. P. Jones
- Paul's Law: You can't fall off the floor.
- The Reaper's Law: Death is nature's way of telling you to slow down.
- Bevan's Law of Judgement: Good judgement comes from experience. Experience comes from bad judgement.
- The Garvan Axiom: Always borrow money from a pessimist - he doesn't expect to be paid back.
- The horse shoe test for coffee: If the horseshoe sinks to the ground, the coffee's certainly too weak.
- Lambert's Law of Investment: $100 invested at 7% interest for 100 years will become $100,000, at which time it will be worth absolutely nothing.
- God exists! If not, who pops up the next Kleenex?
- Too much of a good thing is WONDERFUL. -- Mae West

- Lewis' Law of Travel: The first piece of luggage out of the chute doesn't belong to anyone, ever.
- You can learn many things from children. How much patience you have, for instance. -- Franklin P. Jones
- The day microsoft makes something that doesn't suck is the day they start making vacuum cleaners.
- In The Beginning there was nothing, which exploded.
- The primary purpose of the DATA statement is to give names to constants; instead of referring to pi as 3.141592653589793 at every appearance, the variable PI can be given that value with a DATA statement and used instead of the longer form of the constant. This also simplifies modifying the program, should the value of pi change. -- FORTRAN manual for Xerox Computers
- What happens if a big asteroid hits the Earth? Judging from realistic simulations involving a sledge hammer and a common laboratory frog, we can assume it will be pretty bad. (Dave Barry)
- A new study shows that licking the sweat off a frog can cure depression. The down side is, the minute you stop licking, the frog gets depressed again. (Jay Leno)
- Before you criticize someone, walk a mile in his shoes. That way, if he gets angry, he'll be a mile away - and barefoot.

God is Dead.           -- Nietzsche

Nietzsche is Dead.   -- God

Nietzsche is God.     -- The Dead

- The nice thing about Windows is - It does not just crash, it displays a dialog box and lets you press 'OK' first.
- Computer games don't affect kids; I mean if Pac-Man affected us as kids, we'd all be running around in darkened rooms, munching magic pills and listening to repetitive electronic music. (Marcus Brigstocke)
